FUNERAL LARGELY ATTENDED

The funeral yesterday afternoon of Milton Tanzer was largely attended, and was sad from every aspect. The young man was aged only 18 years and was an only son who had just entered in the services of his country, and while he was not yet in the active struggle for democracy, he was serving his country in the capacity mapped out for him. A long line of friends followed the body to its last resting place in the Hebrew cemetery, near Pricedale, where the customary Jewish service was held. It was solemn and impressive. The floral offerings were profuse and lovely and were conveyed to the grave in a special automobile. The pallbearers were Sigmond Shapiro, David Lebowitz, Jesse Nayhouse, Ralph Silverman, Herman Miller and Bernard Saul, all friends and school mates in life of the young man and of the same religious faith

Milton Tanzer was highly esteemed by all who knew him. As a pupil in the schools he always carried the good graces of his teachers and the love of his classmates and his taking off at so young and tender an age, and in so short a time without even public notice of his illness saddened the community in which he had lived all his life. Mr. and Mrs. Tanzer and the family have the sympathy of all who know them in their great sorrow.

ANOTHER LOCAL BOY WOUNDED

Mrs. Hiram Myers of Lock Four, on Wednesday received a telegraph from the war departmnt announcing that her nephew, Lawrence McCreery, had been seriously wounded in France. Details are lacking. Lawrence is a Monessen boy and a son of the late W. S. McCreery of Rostraver street. He enlisted over a year ago in the cavalry and was sent over seas several months ago.

Navy Band Recital Has Been Called Off

A telegram was received here yesterday at the headquarters of the Liberty Loan committee asking whether the Navy band would be permitted to keep its date here October 14th to give a recital in honor of the Fourth Liberty Loan. The Health Board held a meeting last night and informed the Loan committee that the engagement should be cancelled. This the Board of Health classes as "an unnecessary public gathering" even though it was scheduled for open air.

As matters now stand, the Board of Health has interfered with practically every form of assemblage even asking people to postpone house parties and all forms of meetings. This is carrying out the sweeping proclamation of B. Franklin Royer, state health commissioner, and the health board is being supported by public sentiment. The proclamation also says "Avoid crowds and places frequented by large numbers of people; stay at home and do not use the street cars or trains except as your duties or employment may absolutely require. Crowded cars afford unusual facilities for spreading the disease; make cars less dangerous for those who must use them in necessary industry."

"Labor Bureau" Organized by Y. W. C. A.

Paris (By Mail) It is just by chance that a "labor bureau" has been organized by the Young Women's Christian Association in France. An organization of war workers must necessarily adapt itself to demands made upon it. And it was a sudden demand made upon the resourcefulness of one of the Y. W. C. A. secretaries in Paris that resulted in the formation of the Bureau which is now a part of the work "over there."

A soldier in horizon blue of the French army, accompanied by a sweet-faced French girl, presented himself one day in the office of Miss Mary McKibben, of Granville, Ohio, the assistant hostess of the American Y. W. C. A. Hostess House in Paris.

"Please help me, Mademoiselle," he appealed. "The Americans always have a plan and I've no one else to ask for advice." And then he told her his difficulty.

The girl, who was his fiance, was working in a munition factory where she was receiving insufficient pay and wearing herself out by long hours of unaccustomed toil. He was a Corporal in the French army, where he had been twice decorated for bravery. The only money he had was his small pay, but he explained he could spare enough of that to buy the girl's clothes, provided she could find a place she could have good food and lodgings in return for work which would not overtax her strength.

Miss McKibben thought a few moments and decided that the case was too interesting to refuse. So the girl is now staying at the Hostess House and working in the office. And the man departed for the front with radiant faith and an infinite trust in American resourcefulness.

A few days later another appeal came to Miss McKibben—this time from an English woman whose husband, aged 48, had served in the French army and been so severely wounded that he had been discharged as unfit for further service. The woman absolutely stranded, appealed to the Y. W. C. A. for aid. She is making a good living now by doing odd jobs of sewing and mending for the guests at the Hostess House.

So it was that the "labor bureau" of the Association was established for the relief of American, English or French women who may be in need of help. Many come from homes where they have known every comfort. They have been suddenly thrown upon the world without resources. The only occupation open to them is the difficult work in the factories and "munitions." They endure it until their health begins to break; then they necessarily look elsewhere.

"It's our job to do what we can for the war sufferers, no matter whether they're English, French or American," explained Miss McKibben. "Some of our applicants are placed in good positions through co-operation with the American Labor Bureau of Paris. Others we place through our own efforts."

"Our endeavor here, in Paris, is to fill the need at hand.

HELP THE BOY SCOUTS TOMORROW

It is expected that the Boy Scouts will make their greatest effort tomorrow to reach the great climax in the big Liberty Loan drive. All scouts in uniform are requested to report at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at Meyer's store for final instructions from Scout Commissioner Jacob Meyers.

The boys worked hard last Saturday and their efforts have shown up remarkably well so far, and tomorrow's drive with them is expected to make for them a most creditable record and every person interested in scout work and the success of the Fourth Liberty Loan issue should give the boys every possible help Saturday and help and encourage them to boost their quota and at the same time swell the loan fund.

The Boy Scouts are interested, every parent of a boy scout is deeply interested and every merchant and professional man or woman should show sufficient interest to take one or more bonds when they make the request.

Everybody wants and expects to see a fine report from the Boy Scouts whn the figures are finally totaled up, and the more substantial aid is given them, the more pride we will have in them and the more credit will be due them for their untiring efforts.

LIQUOR MEN VISIT COMMISSIONER

Representatives of the State Liquor Dealers' Association will today call upon Dr. B. F. Royer, acting state commissioner of health, to find out how much longer the closing order will be effective. The commissioner has declined to make any predictions and yesterday told P. H. Keefe and J. H. Botschof of Pittsburgh, that he was unable to entertain any propositions for raising the ban.

It is understood the committee of the liquor dealers will today represent that communities where there are no cases are affected, and ask that something be done to allow residences to be supplied. The general impression is that there will be no change in conditions.

Complaints that business is being affected in mercantile establishments are beginning to come in to Harrisburg.

May Not Change Time

The daylight saving law would remain in effect until rescinded by Congress under a bill passed yesterday by Congress by the Senate. The measure, which was indorsed by Chairman Baruch, of the War Industries Board, in the interest of fuel economy, now goes to the House. Under the present law the clocks would be turned back an hour on October 27.

Notice by Health Board

At a special meeting of the Monessen Board of Health last night, action was taken as follows:

Al funerals hereafter must absolutely be conducted in compliance with state Board of Health regulations.

All brewery deliveries of beer to private parties is ordered discontinued.

A resolution was adopted restricting the congregating of crowds in candy kitchens confectioneries and soda fountains. Any store disregarding these regulations will be closed.

Products Company Jubilant Over Success

As an aftermath of the statement in this paper yesterday from the Pittsburgh Steel Products Co. to the effect that each of the 1600 men had subscribed $170.00 each, the authenticated statement is sent out today that a movement has been promulgated by which the individual amount subscribed by the mill force has been brought up to an average of $200.00 each, thus placing the total beyond the $300,000 mark. This is a great record when it it considered that there are slightly less than 1600 men employed in the Products mill.

In celebration of this unexpected large total, which they are now determined to increase to $325000.00, a number of employes gathered at the mill office last night. It was the intention to parade through Monessen and Charleroi, but, upon inquiry, it was found to be contrary to a ruling of the local Board of Health, so the Monessen end of the parade was given up reluctanlty. Much enthusiasm was shown in the Charleroi part of the parade, and the company's band, under the leadership of Mr. Wahlstrom added greatly to the spirit of the occasion.

The parade dispersed at the P. R.R. station in Charleroi, but the band and a company of 30 men with a large flag, felt honored to act at the request of Mayor Woodward as an escort in the funeral of Frank Erbe, Jr., who had been in training at Camp Sherman to the undertaking rooms where the body was to remain for the night.

This advance movement has in a measure has in a measure been stimulated by the suggested plan to make public the name of each person in not only the mills—but in the town, along with the amount of the Fourth Liberty Bonds subscribed for.

This is being generally accepted as good and practical, as each and everyone desires to see their record show up as creditably as possible, and can be urged to just one better without much convincing argument.

The Tube mill has set the pace—made an enviable record—one to feel justly proud of. This move is being taken up all over the country and is working out splendidly and the excellent record of the Pittsburgh Steel Products Co. is deserving of especial note nd emulation. It must be done if the Fourth Loan reaches the required figures and goes over the top.

JEWISH PEOPLE TO ERECT MEMORIAL

At the funeral of Milton Tanzer yesterday afternoon Rev. Levendorf, after the services suggested that the Jewish people form a special fund to be used in erecting a chapel or rest house in the cemetery, and that the same be dedicated in honor and to the memory of Milton Tanzer, one of Monessen's best known and best liked young men, who gave his life in the service of his country and a most noble cause—the cause of humanity's freedom the world over. This request was made immediately following the service and over $1,000 was provided for.

DISTRIBUTING THE SUGAR

It is complained that many localities are almost without sugar, owing to lack of system and economy in the sugar rationing In some places sugar cards are strictly insisted upon, and the purchaser must present his card and have it punched every time he gets his ration. In others there is no card system at all, and store keepers simply hand it out as fast as it comes in. They may urge people to obey the sugar rules, but they have no system to see if people do. There are lots of slacker people who will not cooperate in these movements.

It is believed that with a proper administration, substituting brown sugar whenever possible, cutting out its use for pickles, etc., and a careful system of rationing, there should be enough for everyone.

If the card system is to be put into effect, it should be done systematically and uniformly all over the country. It is unfair to one town to hold everyone down to his two pounds a week, and allow the next town to have it on a hit or miss plan.

No doubt some people get large amounts to use in canning, and then slip a good deal of it on the table.

Of course the great majority of people are fair in those matters. But it is demoralizing if there are some who are always trying to slip over a little more than their share. It should be a matter of honor strictly to obey the sugar regulation even if it is not being rigidly enforced. The grocers will inform us how much we are supposed to have each week as the season goes along, and anyone should be ashamed to show his face in a store and ask or receive more.

The shortage ought not to last a very long time. The scarcity will lead to the planting of larger crops and the development of the beet sugar farms. So let us be patient and remember that the present ration is ample for all food purposes.

LOW SENSE OF OBLIGATION

A man who did some work canvassing on Liberty bonds in another city the past week, remarks that a good many people still see rather lightly their duty in taking bonds. You will go to houses where from the general looks of things, he said, the people must be getting incomes of $2,000 to $3,000 a year. Yet a good many of these people think they are doing something if they come across with a subscription to a bond for $100 to $200.

In view of the fact that they aren't giving a cent, merely laying up good money for themselves, one does not see much generosity in that.

The $6,000,000,000 that the government must have will not be secured on that basis. The rich people can not give it all. The bulk of their income tax goes for taxes. The great body of working people and business men of moderate incomes must take it. They are not merely unpatriotic, but lacking in common thrift and business sense, if they can't economize enough to give more than a lot of people are doing.

EDITORIALETTES

Everyone claims to be so squeezed by war conditions that they can't take Liberty bonds, and yet three quarters of the people are getting very large advances in what they have to sell.

The only fellows ashamed of having gone to Sunday school nowadays are the slackers who hang around the curbstones.

Some of these people who growl about late trains, can solve the difficulty by staying at home and leaving the railroads free to get supplies to the soldiers on time.

The people who are most contemptuous of doctors are often the same ones who kick the hardest if he doesn't get there in 30 minutes after they get the influenza.

Secret of Book of Revelation.

The number 666 used in the Bible as symbolizing the beast is a constant source of speculation as to what personage the mystic numeral indicates. According to Prof S. E. Slocum of the University of Cincinnati, the key to the riddle lies in the fact that in the case of the Greek form of the name of Nero, written in Hebrew characters, the letters of the name have each a numerical significance according to the number notation of the Hebrews, and the sum of the numbers is 666. The apostle in excoriating the emperor would have found it unsafe to mention him outright, or in some obvious symbolism, such as in Latin or Greek numbers, while using Hebrew characters would be fair concealment to Roman eyes. The other imagery of the Book of Revelation works out strikingly in accordance with the assumption that John was writing discreetly about the persecuting Roman emperor.

Australasian Bird Lovers.

The wild birds of Australia when mating have each their own peculiar methods of courtship. For tenderness note the duskywood-swallow (bee-bird), which snuggles up close to the lady of his choice after bringing her grubs and other succulent insects. On the other hand, some of the parrot tribe make love much after the stone-age fashion, when the caveman simply clubbed his heart's desire insensible and dragged her home by the hair. A male rosella parrot, for instance, invariably begins by biting her, presumably to inspire her with respect. After this operation the gaudily-dressed suitor spreads his tail fanwise, flirts his wings and displays his points, in order to attract the lady's admiration.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

U. S. Public Health Service Issues Official Health Bulletin on Influenza.

LATEST WORD ON SUBJECT.

Epidemic Probably Not Spanish in Origin—Germ Still Unknown—People Should Guard Against "Droplet Infection"—Surgeon General Blue Makes Authoritative Statement.

Washington, D. C.—(Special.)—Although King Alfonso of Spain was one of the victims of the influenza epidemic in 1893 and again this summer, Spanish authorities repudiate any claim to influenza as a "Spanish" disease. If the people of this country do not take care the epidemic will become so widespread throughout the United States that soon we shall hear the disease called "American" influenza.

In response to a request for definite information concerning Spanish influenza, Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the U. S. Public Health Service has authorized the following official interview:

What is Spanish influenza? Is it something new? Does it come from Spain?

"The disease now occurring in this country and called 'Spanish Influenza' resembles a very contagious kind of 'cold,' accompanied by fever, pains in the head, eyes, ears, back or other parts of the body and a feeling of severe sickness. In most of the cases the symptoms disappear after three or four days, the patient then rapidly recovering. Some of the patients, however, develop pneumonia, or inflammation of the ear, or meningitis, and many of these complicated cases die. Whether this so-called 'Spanish' influenza is identical with the epidemics of influenza of earlier years is not yet known.

Coughs and Sneezes Spread Diseases

As Dangerous as Poison Gas Shells

"Epidemics of influenza have visited this country since 1647. It is interesting to know that this first epidemic was brought here from Valencia, Spain. Since that time there have been numerous epidemics of the disease. In 1889 and 1890 an epidemic of influenza, starting somewhere in the Orient, spread first to Russia and thence over practically the entire civilized world. Three years later there was another flare-up of the disease. Both times the epidemic spread widely over the United States.

"Although the present epidemic is called 'Spanish influenza,' there is no reason to believe that it originated in Spain. Some writers who have studied the question believe that the epidemic came from the Orient and they call attention to the fact that the Germans mention the disease as occurring along the eastern front in the summer and fall of 1917."

How can "Spanish influenza" be recognized?

"There is as yet no certain way in which a single case of 'Spanish influenza' can be recognized. On the other hand, recognition is easy where there is a group of cases. In contrast to the outbreaks of ordinary coughs and colds, which usually occur in the cold months, epidemics of influenza may occur at any season of the year. Thus the present epidemic raged most intensely in Europe in May, June and July. Moreover, in the case of ordinary colds, the general symptoms (fever, pain, depression) are by no means as severe or as sudden in their onset as they are in influenza. Finally, ordinary colds do not spread through the community so rapidly or so extensively as does influenza.

"In most cases a person taken sick with influenza feels sick rather suddenly. He feels weak, has pains in the eyes, ears, head or back, and may be sore all over. Many patients feel dizzy, some vomit. Most of the patients complain of feeling chilly, and with this comes a fever in which the temperature rises to 100 to 104. In most cases the pulse remains relatively slow.

"In appearance one is struck by the fact that the patient looks sick. His eyes and the inner side of his eyelids may be slightly 'bloodshot,' or 'congested,' as the doctors say. There may be running from the nose, or there may be some cough. These signs of a cold may not be marked, nevertheless the patient looks and feels very sick.

"In addition to the appearance and the symptoms as already described, examination of the patient's blood may aid the physician in recognizing 'Spanish influenza,' for it has been found that in this disease the number of white corpuscles shows little or no increase above the normal. It is possible that the laboratory investigations now being made through the National Research Council and the United States Hygienic Laboratory will furnish a more certain way in which individual cases of this disease can be recognized."

What is the course of the disease? Do people die of it?

"Ordinarily, the fever lasts from three to four days and the patient recovers. But while the proportion of deaths in the present epidemic has generally been low, in some places the outbreak has been severe and deaths have been numerous. When death occurs it is usually the result of a complication."

What causes the disease and how is it spread?

"Bacteriologists who have studied influenza epidemics in the past have found in many of the cases a very small rod shaped germ called, after its discoverer, Pfeiffer's bacillus. In other cases of apparently the same kind of disease there were found pneumococci, the germs of lobar pneumonia. Still others have been caused by strepto cocci, and by others germs with long names.

"No matter what particular kind of germ causes the epidemic, it is now believed that influenza is always spread from person to person, the germs being carried with the air along with the very small droplets of mucus, expelled by coughing or sneezing, forceful talking, and the like by one who already has the germs of the disease. They may also be carried about in the air in the form of dust coming from dried mucus, from coughing and sneezing, or from careless people who spit on the floor and on the sidewalk. As in most other catching diseases, a person who has only a mild attack of the disease himself may give a very severe attack to others."

What should be done by those who catch the disease?

"It is very important that every person who becomes sick with influenza should go home at once and go to bed. This will help keep away dangerous complications and will at the same time, keep the patient from scattering the disease far and wide. It is highly desirable that no one be allowed to sleep in the same room with the patient. In fact, no one but the nurse should be allowed in the room.

"If there is cough and sputum or running of the eyes and nose, care should be taken that all such discharges are collected on bits of gauze or rag or paper napkins and burned. If the patient complains of fever and headache, he should be given water to drink, a cold compress to the forehead and a light sponge. Only such medicine should be given as is prescribed by the doctor. It is foolish to ask the druggist to prescribe and may be dangerous to take the so called 'safe, sure and harmless' remedies advertised by patent medicine manufacturers.

"If the patient is so situated that he can be attended only by some one who must also look after others in the family, it is advisable that such attendant wear a wrapper, apron or gown over the ordinary house clothes while in the sick room and slip this off when leaving to look after the others.

"Nurses and attendants will do well to guard against breathing in dangerous disease germs by wearing a simple fold of gauze or mask while near the patient."

Will a person who has had influenza before catch the disease again?

"It is well known that an attack of measles or scarlet fever or smallpox usually protects a person against another attack of the same disease. This appears not to be true of Spanish influenza. According to newspaper reports the King of Spain suffered an attack of influenza during the epidemic thirty years ago, and was again stricken during the recent outbreak in Spain."

How can one guard against influenza?

"In guarding against disease of all kinds, it is important that the body be kept strong and able to fight off disease germs. This can be done by having a proper proportion of work, play and rest, by keeping the body well clothed, and by eating sufficient wholesome and properly selected food. In connection with diet, it is well to remember that milk is one of the best all around foods obtainable for adults as well as children. So far as a disease like influenza is concerned, health authorities everywhere recognize the very close relation between its spread and overcrowded homes. While it is not always possible, especially in times like the present, to [illegible] overcrowding, people should consider the health danger and make every effort to reduce the [illegible] ing to a minimum. TEN-HERBS HAS NOW RESTORED ME TO HEALTH

Joseph Majes, 839 S. Canal St., Pittsburgh, Says Ten Herbs Did the Work

"For a number of years I have been a great sufferer with my stomach" stated Mr Joseph Majes of No. 839 South Canal street, Pittsburgh, Pa, a well known machinist, to the Ten-Herbs man, who is introducing the new herbal preparation, Ten-Herbs

"My stomach was in such a weak condition that I could not keep down the lightest kind of food and it would ferment and cause gas to form. I had to be very careful about what I ate and I was so nervous that I could never get a good night's sleep, I had palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, my liver was inactive and I had terrible pains in my back; I was always constipated and could never find any relief until I began to take your Ten-Herbs My appetite is good I sleep well at night and am not as nervous as I was It has relieved my constipation and the pains in my back I feel better in every way"

There are numerous symtoms of this trouble that Ten-Herbs can relieve. In fact any one of the following may denote affections of the stomach: Indigestion dyspepsia, bad breath sick, throbbing headaches, that tired feeling, night sweats, poor circulation, costiveness, a coated tongue or a poor complexion

Ten-Herbs is a vegetable preparation, extracted from the roots herbs, barks, berries and fibers of numerous medicinal plants. It is nature's own remedy and works wonders. It gives almost immediate benefit and leads to permanent relief in practically every case where people suffer as above outlined.

Ten-Herbs is sold in Monessen at the Central Pharmacy. adv
